DR. LIEBKNECHT
BLAMES EBERT
FOR BERLIN RIOTCalls on People to Organize to Resist "Kaiser Socialists"GREAT MEETING MANAGED

Conflicting Factions
Called Sunday

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Berlin, Sunday, Dec. 8.—Eager to make members of the Spartacus party martyrs as the result of Friday's rioting, Dr. Karl Liebknecht, the leader of this faction, lost no time in staging a spectacular open air meeting at the Tiergarten last night. His call for the meeting brought forth 4,000 munition workers who had responded to the demand for a general walkout.

These men and women through Unter den Linden to the Tiergarten until they reached a point where the avenue of victory intersects the Charlottenburger Chaussee. There Dr. Liebknecht mounted the base of one of the granite statues erected in honor of the Hohenzollerns and made an address.

The semi-circles of Dr. Liebknecht's auditors was flanked on all sides by machine guns mounted on motor trucks which commanded all approaches. Dr. Liebknecht harangued the crowd in his familiar style, indicting Friedrich Ebert, the premier, Philipp Scheidemann and other "Kaiser socialists" of complicity in Friday's rioting. He called upon the masses to organize Red Guards and beat off the attacks of counter-revolutionists.

At a late hour tonight Berlin was absolutely quiet. It is estimated that the Tagblatt that the number of deserters that Berlin is feeding exceeds sixty thousand. Premier Ebert and his cabinet held a secret session with the executive committee of the workmen and soldiers' council, discussing Friday's rioting. Over thirty mass meetings of conflicting parties was announced for today.

BLAMES JUNKERS, NOT
KAISER, FOR THE WAR

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
London, Dec. 9.—Maximilian Harden, editor of the Zukunft, of Berlin, said to the correspondent of the Express, according to a dispatch from the German capital, that the impression abroad concerning the former German emperor is a false one. He said that he himself had suggested much of the charge of partiality, but that it was a fact that William Hohenzollern had no personal part in willing the war but was a mere tool in the hands of the military, which he was regarded as a coward.

"When the moment for declaring war came, the militarists were afraid he would refuse to sign the declaration," said Harden. "The former emperor was never happier than when posing in the limelight. He ought to have managed a cabaret or taken a show on tour. He was a great show man."

He said that when America came into the war that Germany would be beaten, Herr Harden said:

"I fought with the censors to tell the people this, and when President Wilson published his fourteen points I advocated their acceptance because I knew we could not get better or more favorable conditions."

SAY SOLDIERS CHEAT
TO PURCHASE LIQUORS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Columbus, Dec. 9.—United States District Attorney Stuart R. Dolin, John L. McCune, local chief of the American Protective League and Robert Pfeiffer, local investigator of the federal department of justice today called at the governor's office and requested that Governor Cox, through the state liquor licensing commission, issue an order to prohibit saloonkeepers from selling liquor to men in military uniform.

The federal officials stated that many soldiers not yet discharged from the service are obtaining liquor by using discharge papers borrowed from friends. There is no federal order against selling liquor to discharged soldiers, even though they still wear uniforms, it was stated. Therefore, federal authorities are without power to interfere.

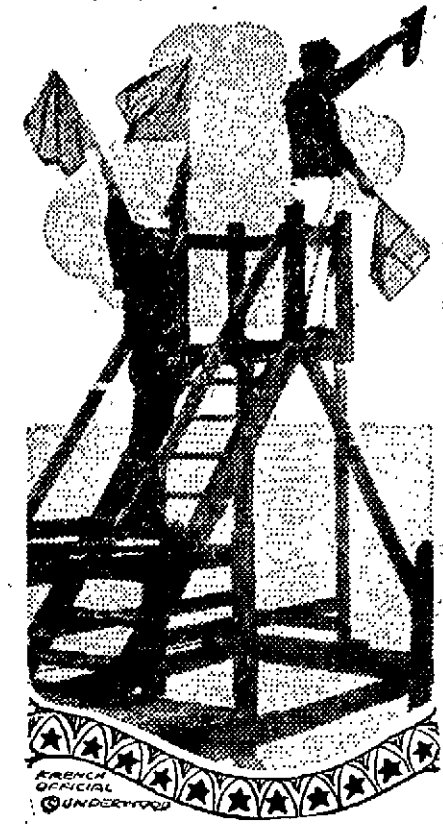

The officials said they had called at his office when the federal officials called.

SWISS PAPERS GIVE AMERICA GOOD BOOST

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Bern, Friday, Dec. 6.—Prominent French and German language newspapers in Switzerland have begun printing extended series of articles about America. These articles are based on observations made by a Swiss representative who has just completed a tour of the United States under the auspices of the committee on public information.

The first instalments of the series which have appeared constitute the greatest and most favorable volume of publicity of an educational nature that America has ever received in this country. They have made a distinctly good impression everywhere. The editors have written in a serious vein, interspersing their friendly comments with occasional criticism and humorous anecdotes.

QUARANTINE CARD
CLOSES HOMESHealth Officer Declares
Members of Family Must Remain Away From Public Places.

"Placecards, which are placed on homes for influenza, not only restrict people in visiting the house where there is sickness but it also requires that inmates of the home, not mingle with other people, or visit stores, theatres or other public places," said Health Officer W. H. Knauss in a statement today.

Only the utmost care, will prevent a complete and drastic quarantine being placed on the city. "This will be done if the state health officer takes as soon as the condition warrants. However he continued that he did not consider this action necessary at the present time. In a further statement Health Officer Knauss says: "Neighbors owe it to themselves to see that cards are placed on the homes in their neighborhood where there is influenza, and to see that the inmates of that home wear masks."

The state health department in a statement issued yesterday, says: "Despite all precautions that can be taken, we may expect the epidemic to continue until at least 40 per cent of the people of the state have had the disease. The longer the time over which this number of cases can be distributed, the less will be the demoralization caused by the outbreak. Enforcement of regulations against public gatherings in places where the disease is prevalent will achieve this 'slowing up' and is therefore desirable even though it is not likely to reduce the total number of cases."

The serious feature in many local outbreaks has been the complete paralysis of community life because of the illness of a large part of the population at the same time. If the same number of cases had been spread out over a longer time the community could have handled the situation without great difficulty.

"The local health department explains that individuals can aid by wearing masks, and in cases where there is illness the members of the family must absolutely stay away from the stores, theatres, and other public places. If the people of the city could be brought to a realization of the danger of the disease and avoid all possibility of contracting it, the situation would improve."

The members of the Red Cross "Flu" committee continue to demand that the question of action be taken on the matter by the board of health and as members of the committee, Rev. L. P. Franklin and Frederick Black, gave out the following statement today:

"The difference between Dr. Knauss and the Red Cross is that the committee of the Red Cross may be summed up in a few words. He is interested in per cents. We are interested in suffering and the lives of Newark's people. To study tables of statistics while the flower of Newark's young people are dying, and anxiety and sorrow are knocking at the doors of Newark's homes is too cold blooded in its methods to suit us."

The health officer has adopted two methods to account for his inactivity. The first is a confession of ignorance as to what he should do. Our reply is: "If you don't know what to do resign."

"Newark at this time needs a health officer who will act to create a maze of difficulties, to attempt to lead the question into labyrinth of uncertainties, is in itself a confession of weakness."

"His second method is to throw a scare into the business interests by taking drastic action. He says everything must be closed except stores handling the necessities of life."

"We are weary looking at this health officer. The loss of statistics while the life in the past two months if put into the value of dollars and cents, will amount to over half million of dollars. Add a like sum for loss of time and productivity for those who didn't die, and what right has business to set up its claims against human life?"

"We cannot feel that all of Newark's business men love their profits more than their fellow citizens."

In conclusion, an organization that is spending $1,000 a month and employing from 20 to 40 nurses to combat this disease in our city, has a right to be heard."

"We think, and justly so, that the interests of Newark are entitled to some consideration at the hands of the health officer."

Amsterdam, Sunday, Dec. 8.—The American forces advancing toward the Rhine will reach Coblenz on Monday, according to a message from Berlin quoting a representative of the German foreign office who has just returned from Treves.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
London, Dec. 9.—British advanced troops reached the river Rhine yesterday between Godesberg and Cologne, Field Marshal Haig announced today in reporting the progress of the British army of occupation. Godesberg is about 20 miles southeast of Cologne, near the Rhine above Bonn.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, Dec. 9.—General Pershing's report on the line reached by the American army of occupation in Germany last night says:

"Units of the Third American army north of Bonn advanced today, reaching the line Meckenheim-Memphigen. South of Memphigen our lines remained unchanged."

END OF WAR BRINGS RELIEF IN GERMANY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
London, Dec. 9.—The German population west of the Rhine becomes more cordial in its attitude toward the British as Field Marshal Haig's troops move eastward, according to an undated dispatch from the correspondent of the Daily Mail with the British army.

"As we approach the Rhine," the correspondent says, "our reception becomes more surprising. The authorities in such places are Duren say undisguisedly that they rejoice at our arrival. They give two reasons for this, that they are afraid of their own people and are afraid of starvation. Many men confess that the end of the war brought such relief the stigma of defeat weighs little. Children sometimes cheer our arrival. The revolutionary movement is real but not much on the surface. The outbreaks during the first few days were supported by the retreating army which is much less Bolshevik than the soldiers in reserve at the bases. They have seen many German soldiers in uniform, short of badges. They are demoralized but they have no civilian clothes to take the place of their uniforms."

"The armed men guarding the arms in the barracks talk without rancor of their experiences in the war against both the British and French. An overwhelming desire for peace makes of these soldiers a strong instrument of social solidarity, at any rate for the time being."

"Danger signals are received at times and on occasions cavalry and machine gunners are called for by the Germans for fear—generally, I think, exaggerated fear—of Bolshevik outbreaks of Russian character."

"The majors and their staffs act with admirable dignity but the population is almost obsequious and servile to our men."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, Dec. 9.—Congress was asked by Secretary McAdoo today to authorize loans after the declaration of peace to governments which have been associated with the United States in the war to aid in feeding and reconstructing devastated countries.

The secretary estimated that about a billion and a half dollars of war loans would be continued after peace is proclaimed without specific legislative authority.

A special meeting of the house ways and means committee, to which the request was addressed, was called for Wednesday to hear Mr. McAdoo and Assistant Secretary Leffingwell on the subject.

London, Dec. 9.—William Hohenzollern already has been sufficiently punished, but it is essential that his part in causing the war should be clearly established says Philip Scheidemann, the former German secretary of finance and colonies, in an interview with the representative of the Express. He said, the establishment of a state tribunal to try all persons guilty of causing the war is being discussed but must be decided upon by the national assembly.

Herr Scheidemann, according to the Express, said further that Dr. W. S. Solf, foreign minister, remains in the government because it is believed he has the confidence of Great Britain and America.

The eventual government Germany will have will be republican in form, "a United States of Germany," Herr Scheidemann predicted.

Joe Miller is dead. The end came at 10 o'clock this morning at his home, 93 West Church street, after an illness resulting from malignant sarcoma, extending over a period of several weeks.

Joseph E. Miller, son of the late Abram Miller, was 44 years of age. He was educated in the Newark public schools, graduating with the class of 1891, Newark high school. Later he attended the Washington and Lee university in Lexington, Va., and afterwards studied law with the late J. L. Jones. Before his admission to the bar, however, he entered newspaper work and for years was on the editorial staff of the newspapers of Newark.

Few men in the community had a wider range of information than Joe Miller. He was exceedingly well-read and his acquaintance with literature covered a very wide field. Mr. Miller could discuss politics, law, religion, history or philosophy equally well. He had retentive memory, an argumentative mind, a wonderful vocabulary. He was a brilliant writer and in his newspaper work showed great versatility. He could "cover" a political convention or a revival just as well as he could report a baseball game or any other sporting event. In an "interview" he was adept. On the "desk" his "news sense" enabled him to display the day's news in attractive fashion and in commenting upon current events he was always keen and interesting.

Mr. Miller is survived by his sister, Miss Mary Miller, and two brothers, William H. and Edward C. Miller.

The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon at the Miller home, 93 West Church street. Burial will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery. Definite arrangements will be announced later.

ONLY 3 IN 40,000
WOULD JOIN REGULARS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Dec. 9.—Final orders for the complete demobilization of almost all organizations of the 95th division have now been received. The first increment of discharged men is expected to leave here Tuesday noon and it is thought by the staff personnel that demobilization of the unit will be completed by Saturday, December 14.

The first orders received by Brigadier General Smith, commander of the 95th division, called for the discharge of infantry units only, but these were later superseded by telegraphic instructions for the demobilization of all service branches of the division, with the exception of a very few needed to carry on some clerical work connected with the disbandment of the organization.

Of the approximately 40,000 men in the division, only three enlisted men have expressed a desire to join the regular army. About fifty officers of the command will be retained.

Company's Newark Exchange.

A number of citizens met with Manager Chas. E. Hollander of the Newark Telephone company in the council chamber, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of discussing the proposed repeal of the telephone rate ordinance passed by the city council a number of years ago, in order that the local company may purchase the Central Union Telephone plant in this city and complete the merger of the two systems and have the state public utilities commission agree to the present schedule of rates adopted by the Newark Telephone company, the advance rate now being placed in an escrow fund until the courts finally decide its legality.

Several of the city councilmen were present to hear the discussion and after Manager Hollander had stated the company's reasons for asking for a repeal it was questioned by Clerk Geo. H. Hamilton of the council, regarding the status of the escrow fund in case council would agree to the repeal, and also a number of other questions regarding what effect the merger might have on the individual or residential telephone lease.

The courts, of course, will finally dispose of the escrow fund and it may be possible that they will be called upon to settle the matter of the repeal of the present ordinance, in case council does not agree to its repeal, and the company sees fit to take it into the court.

The ordinance is now before the council. It would arrive at the repeal, and after a public hearing, it would be taken up for a final reading at the last regular meeting and the second reading will take place at the next meeting. Final disposition by the council will be made at the third reading.

Paris, Sunday, Dec. 8.—Elaborate plans are being made by the French government for the entertainment of President Wilson. These plans include various state dinners and official calls and probably a gala night at the opera. The program will be completed by the next few days.

Up to the present it has been decided that President Wilson, upon his arrival at the Bois de Boulogne station at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, will be met by President Poincare and other members of the French government. He will then go immediately to the Murat mansion which will be his home while he is in Paris. Mr. Wilson's drive on Monday to the Hotel de Ville will be an occasion of considerable ceremony.

The children of Paris will go out in force when the president arrives. Thursday is usually a school holiday in Paris, as Saturday is in the United States.

Virtually all the mercantile establishments in Paris have notified their employees that next Saturday will be a full holiday. It is expected to be a larger celebration than any before seen in Paris.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Metz, Sunday, Dec. 8.—After giving hearty greetings to the French troops three weeks ago, Metz, today received President Poincare and representatives of every branch of the French government. The enthusiasm shown was more than significant. The people of Lorraine have become accustomed to the French occupation but the visit of President Poincare and representatives of the French government meant more than military occupation. The people of Metz looked upon it as a sort of official entry into possession of the city. They appeared with the presence of a vast throng that continually cheered President Poincare, Premier Clemenceau, Marshals Joffre, Foch and Petain and Field Marshal Haig and General Gaudron.

The girls of Metz, wearing their national costume, were banded on both sides of the street from the station to the esplanade. Behind them were packed men and women carrying the French flag and waving artificial tri-color bouquets in default of real flowers. Shouts acclaiming the president, the premier and the general officers could be heard from the esplanade long before their carriages appeared in sight. Marshals Joffre, Foch and Petain and Generals Pershing, Fayolle and Gouraud received the warmest greetings when they were recognized by the great throng.

MRS. R. I. DAVIS DIES ON SUNDAY

Pneumonia Following Influenza Takes Prominent Young Woman—Funeral Will Be Private.

On Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, Mrs. Ralph I. Davis, died at the home 98 Elmwood avenue, after a nine days' illness of influenza followed by pneumonia.

The news of the death fell with stunning force upon the many friends who were anxiously awaiting and hoping for favorable developments in the course of her illness.

Mrs. Davis, formerly Mable Grace Miller, was the only daughter of Senator and Mrs. Wm. E. Miller of South Third street, who with two brothers, Stanley of this city, Emerson of Philadelphia, her husband Ralph I. Davis and one son, William Ibbotson, survive her.

She was born July 30, 1882 and has always lived in this city. Her girlhood was largely spent at the old Scheider homestead on South Third street, where her family lived jointly with the Scheiders.

Mrs. Davis was a granddaughter of the late Rhinehart Scheider, well remembered as one of Newark's prominent manufacturers.

After graduating from the Newark high school, she pursued the study of art in the form of decorative china painting, at the college of music, Cincinnati.

October 14, 1908, she was married to Ralph I. Davis, is prominently identified with the Licking Creamery company of this city. One son, William Ibbotson, aged 4 years, was born to this union.

Mrs. Davis was an energetic, dignified woman, of great character and large kindness of heart. She was a loyal member of the Second Presbyterian church of this city.

As a home-maker, church member, neighbor and friend, her memory lives on, and in all these paths of citizenship where womanhood itself makes it felt.

The funeral will be held at the late residence at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. On account of the prevalence of influenza the services will be private.

FIGHTS FLU ATTACK IN ARMY HOSPITAL

Private J. R. Bancroft wrote his parents Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Bancroft from Base Hospital 27 on Oct. 26, that he had been ill with influenza but received fine treatment and good care. Another letter written Oct. 30 stated that he was better and had received a new outfit and expected to be sent to the front soon. The letters follow:

"I have been sick. The grippe or influenza as they call it here. Have been in the hospital for two weeks and am just walking around a little for the first. I have received good care and slept in a regular bed, white sheets and all."

"I am not going to write much as this is my first writing for more than two weeks."

Oct. 30th, he wrote:

"Am feeling fine today, have been down stairs and over to the 'Y' twice and that's some trip since we are on the third floor."

"Stepped out after my clothes yesterday. Have a brand new uniform, shoes and everything even a new overcoat have no hat yet, but think that will be remedied by the time I start back to my outfit, which I hope will be soon, as there is a rumor that we are going away from our present place soon and do real work."

"A couple of other fellows came here the night I did but I do not know where they are now, as I was moved in another ward. I felt pretty tough for a few days and didn't care much about how the weather behaved."

"You know how real grippe gets, although, think this was about like I had in Barborton sometime ago."

"Our Chaplain was here yesterday and said perhaps I'd be out of here in time to go with the bunch." He seems rather nice."

"I presume the newspapers are working overtime in the States in regard to Austria etc."

PIG AND CHICKENS AWAIT OWNERS

Five chickens and one pig are being cared for by Officers Johnny Abbott and Eddie Hurlburt at the city prison, awaiting identification and ownership.

Having been found in a yard in Green street in the north end of the city. A woman reported to Chief Sheridan that she found the live stock and fowls in her yard early Sunday morning.

The pig is of the Hampshire variety and weighs about 40 pounds. There are three Plymouth Rock chickens, a Rhode Island red and game mixed, and the fifth chicken is just an ordinary common ever-ready hen. The owner can call at the city prison and identify his property, at the same time proving ownership.

U. S. HEALTH SERVICE ISSUES WARNING

Increase in All Respiratory Diseases After the Influenza Epidemic Probable.

Influenza Expected to Lurk for Months. How to Guard Against Pneumonia. Common Colds Highly Catching—Importance of Suitable Clothing—Could Save 100,000 Lives.

Washington, D. C.—With the subsidence of the epidemic of influenza the attention of health officers is directed to pneumonia, bronchitis and other diseases of the respiratory system which regularly cause a large number of deaths, especially during the winter season. According to Rupert Blue, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, these diseases will be especially prevalent this winter unless the people are particularly careful to obey health instructions.

"The present epidemic," said Surgeon General Blue, "has taught by bitter experience how readily a condition beginning apparently as a slight cold may go on to pneumonia and death. Although the worst of the epidemic is over, there will continue to be a large number of scattered cases, many of them mild and unrecognized, which will be danger spots to be guarded against." The Surgeon General likened the present situation to that after a great fire, saying, "No fire chief who understands his business stops playing the hose on the charred debris as soon as the flames and visible fire have disappeared. On the contrary, he continues the water for hours and even days, for he knows that there is danger of the fire rekindling from smoldering embers."

"Then you fear another outbreak of influenza?" he was asked. "Not necessarily another large epidemic," said the Surgeon General, "but unless the people learn to realize the seriousness of the danger they will be compelled to pay a heavy death toll from pneumonia and other respiratory diseases."

Common Colds Highly Catching.

"It is encouraging to observe that people are beginning to learn that ordinary coughs and colds are highly catching and are spread from person to person by means of droplets of germ laden mucus. Such droplets are sprayed into the air when careless or ignorant people cough or sneeze without covering their mouth and nose. It is also good to know that people have learned something about the value of fresh air. In summer, when people are largely out of doors, the respiratory diseases (coughs, colds, pneumonia, etc.) are infrequent; in the fall, as people begin to remain indoors, the respiratory diseases increase; in the winter, when people are prone to stay in badly ventilated, overheated rooms, the respiratory diseases become very prevalent."

Suitable Clothing Important.

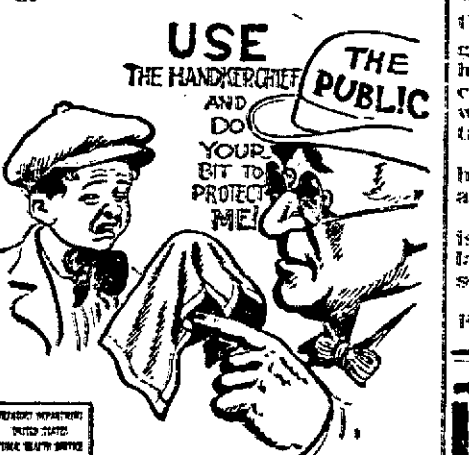

"Still another factor in the production of colds, pneumonia and other respiratory diseases is carelessness or ignorance of the people regarding suitable clothing during the seasons when the weather suddenly changes, sitting in warm rooms too heavily dressed or, what is even more common, especially among women, dressing so lightly that windows are kept closed in order to be comfortably warm. This is a very injurious practice."

Could Save 100,000 Lives.

"I believe we could easily save one hundred thousand lives annually in the United States if all the people would adopt the system of fresh air living followed, for example, in tuberculosis sanatoria. There is nothing mysterious about it—no specific medicine, no vaccine. The important thing is right living, good food and plenty of fresh air."

Droplet Infection Explained in Pictures.

"The Bureau of Public Health, Treasury Department, has just issued a striking poster drawn by Berryman, the well-known Washington cartoonist. The poster exemplifies the modern method of health education. A few years ago, under similar circumstances, the health authorities would have issued an official dry but scientifically accurate bulletin teaching the role of droplet infection in the spread of respiratory diseases. The only ones who would have understood the bulletin would have been those who already knew all about the subject. The man in the street, the plain citizen and the many millions who toil for their living would have had no time and no desire to wade through the technical phraseology."

COLDS, INFLUENZA, PNEUMONIA, AND TUBERCULOSIS ARE SPREAD THIS WAY

Copies of this poster can be obtained free of charge by writing to the Surgeon General, U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.

Make Her a Christmas Present of Yourself

Not some trifling bauble nor even costly gems, but a gift that will bespeak the same devotion to her who shares with you the bitter and sweet of life that was present in days that now are gone; that will assure her that you have not forgotten her; that you appreciate more truly than ever the golden wealth of her nature undimmed by the trials that she has borne.

If you are an excessive drinker give her a present that will restore the face and respect that once was yours. Give her a Christmas present that is more to her than all the wealth of land or sea—give her a present of yourself.

Free, independent, self-confident and a slave to intoxicating liquors that debase and destroy you, that mark you a disgrace and humiliation to those who should love, cherish and honor you. Be yourself of old. You can do it—hundreds have done it these past years at the Neal Institute. Don't worry over past attempts to escape the ills of drink, over past failures. Come to Dr. McNamee's Sanitarium and learn the Neal Way—three days of harmless medicinal treatment under Dr. McNamee and all desire for drink gone.

Go back to her the man you used to be, in every respect, physically and mentally. A Christmas gift to her indeed. Dr. McNamee's Sanitarium, 3429, Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio. Phone Roseland 3429.

hardwearing, wealthy young man. Stuart, whose, who, unknown to Mary, makes an attempt to seduce her. Mary is a fine, virginal, vampire woman. Stuart, however, has developed a sincere admiration for Mary and watches for an opportunity to become acquainted.

One day Mary and George Westcott go to a bathing beach. There is a fire and their clothes are burned. Stuart happens along in his car and rescues Mary, taking her to the home of Rita. He persuades her to do Rita's clothes to go home in, but she is about to do so when she finds. Finding a strange girl there in her clothes, she protests, but is ordered from the house. In a spirit of revenge she gets the police to raid the house.

Charlie Chaplin. "Shoulder Arms." Million Dollar Comedian, comes to the Auditorium in a feature in the National Exhibitors' Circuit feature, "Shoulder Arms." This feature besides being a fitting successor to "A Dog's Life," one more step in the long chain of evidence as to the star's ability as an actor of the first rank, also does the best story that Chaplin has ever made. Charlie as the awkward rookie in the awkward squad, fits himself in the front line trenches in France. He makes the best of trench life, getting along as best he can, catering to his own comfort.

After undergoing the hardships trench life and having mastered nerves, he volunteers to undertake dangerous mission and the German soldiers are so impressed by a traitor in this disguise rescues a traitor by deserting the firing squad. Pressed, he seeks shelter in the ruins of a French home, and here he meets the girl who is his own escape from the firing squad. Charlie follows her. Having disposed of the commands Charlie dons his uniform, and in

Miss Bob Greenwald.

These Majesties come direct from Pittsburgh after a successful 4 weeks engagement. Special scenes and effects are used for each bill presented and with several novelty specialties to be introduced during the stay here. Manager Edison feels sure that securing his patrons a real, enjoyable week.

COLUMBIA'S MEMORIAL DALL.

For over a year before his death, New York, has been mourning the loss of a man who was extremely prominent in musical circles and many extravagant things were said about the young Spaulding's art.

After the first tenor aria, "Quella Quella," he was heard to sing, the tenor had "served" well as the Metropolitan's finest tenors. Luzzaro was recalled twice two times by the excited crowd.

WORTH THE PRICE.

Just by way of appreciation of what the world has escaped suppose for a moment that the German plan of world empire had been carried out successfully and that Germany today was dictating the terms of peace.

Would King Albert of Belgium be back in Brussels?

Would stricken Rumania be holding her head up once more with a smile of hope?

Would devastated Serbia be gathering together the remnants of her former government and preparing to rebuild her burned homes.

Would France be jubilating over the probable early restoration of Alsace-Lorraine?

Would England have the Union Jack floating from her flag pole in the land and Harwich harbor full of docile German U-boats.

Would Russia be freed of the terms of the atrocious Brest-Litovsk treaty and at liberty to recognize her government along the broadest lines of liberty?

And would Uncle Sam be preparing to get out and pick the juiciest plums in foreign commerce or would he be arranging to pay a $40,000,000,000 indemnity and to bow to the Kaiser's yoke for the next half century?

And what of the world at large? Would it be rejoicing today at the prospect of unfettered democracy and liberty?

Not if the Kaiser retained his faculties. For the Kaiser had planned a little privately managed world protectorate with the world paying substantial tribute to the new Germany. It cost the allied nations something more than $100,000,000,000 to escape this fate. Not forgetting a tremendous blood toll.

But it was worth it.

And if Uncle Sam is compelled to add a few billion more to round out his obligations his independence will be cheap at the price.

So get ready to buy his next bond issue and be ready for the 1919 issue of War Savings Stamps which will go on sale January 1st.

Licking county went "over the top" everytime the call came in 1918 and will do it again in the coming year.

BUSINESS WOMEN.

Although women have been entering all fields of business activity for many years, yet they still have a curiously subordinate position. You go into a large factory and its offices are full of humming typewriters operated by girls. In the workrooms women are found almost everywhere.

But in the offices occupied by the officers of the corporation, how many women do you find? The positions calling for executive management are usually filled entirely by men. Most of the superintendents and heads of the mechanical departments are men. From this condition a good many people argue that women lack the capacity for executive management.

Of course anyone who believes that mental gifts are transmitted from one generation to another, must consider that men inherit masculine traits and women feminine traits. From all time the big positions of executive responsibility have been filled by men. It is perhaps inevitable that in so far as this gift is transmitted, it has been handed down largely to the male sex. Still modern thought tends us to believe that education, training, and environment count more in life than heredity. Probably the principal reason why women do not take large executive jobs is that they do not train for it. They look at a business position as a temporary stop-gap until they get married. They want something to give them immediate independence until the husband comes along. It hardly seems worth while for them to fit themselves for a permanent career that very likely will be broken before it is much more than begun.

As marriage is the most normal for a woman's life, it hardly seems worth while to argue against that point of view. At the same time young women are given to entering business life with too superficial a preparation.

HOME TOWN FEELING.

The home town means a lot more to some people than to others. Some people do not feel close ties to any place. They move around without feeling of regret or loss. They do not feel badly to part with the friends they make, because they do not create intimate ties. They do not acknowledge obligations to work in co-operation with their fellow citizens, and no one feels any obligation to help them along. They play a lone hand all their days, and never get far.

Other people have an intense feeling of loyalty binding them to the home soil. It is partly sentimental affection, partly a keen sense of the advantages of business unity and co-operation. They feel united by a common tie to all the people who live in the town.

Newark has a lot of people of this kind, who have been the mainstay of all our progress. They feel a keen interest in every person or thing that was ever connected with the place, and any project tending to work for its benefit has their hearty and enthusiastic support.

In so far as all our people acquire that point of view, we shall attain our ideals as a community. This involves giving a preference in all our business relations to anyone that comes from the home town. If a suit of clothes sold here is just as good as one bought somewhere else, we should buy the suit of clothes sold here. We might well buy it even if it was not quite so good, but it is not necessary in our good stores to make that kind of sacrifice.

When a town fully acquires that unity and purpose and feeling, the possibilities of its progress are enormous. It advances as a compact mass of people devoted to one end, not as a lot of separate individuals all working for diverse purposes.

SECRETARY GLASS.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo's successor, Carter Glass of Virginia, is one of America's strong men. He has been a member of congress for many years and as the chairman of the house banking and currency committee showed his knowledge of finance. He was prominent in the formation of the Federal reserve act, the most important piece of financial legislation enacted in many years. The prompt confirmation of Mr. Glass's appointment by the senate gives general satisfaction.

VICE PRESIDENT MARSHALL.

(New York Sun.)
In the confusion of expert legal and constitutional opinion on the unprecedented situation which President Wilson is now evoking or provoking there is one thing which ought to be perfectly clear.

The president of the United States cannot delegate the functions and powers vested in his sole person by the constitution. If he is unable to exercise any longer these functions and powers himself they are transferred to another officer of the government. But they are not transferred by his action, his appointment, his volition. They are transferred automatically by the constitutional provision, and the president from whose hands they pass has no in case of his "inability" to exercise more to do with the process of transfer than longer than he has to do with the process of transfer in case of his death.

Therefore when we read reports of an attempted arrangement by which Vice President Marshall is to give up his Pacific trip and stay in Washington in order to discharge that part of the president's duties which concern the reception and return of bills passed by congress and sent to the president for signature or veto we are filled with amazement.

There cannot possibly be at the same time a president of the United States, sojourning in foreign countries and thence discharging by mail or cable a portion of his constitutional powers and duties, and an acting president at Washington, constitutionally discharging another portion of the powers and duties vested in the president alone.

President Wilson, in his extremely lucid writing, has described the vice presidency as "that singular office." It is not, however, so singular as this proposed division of powers would make it. Furthermore, the ascertainment of such inability on the part of the president as would devolve upon the vice president the powers and duties of the president is not a matter for Mr. Wilson's belief. The question belongs to the first place to the congress, and its final settlement to the judicial department of the federal government.

The most supposition being in the world is temper. The man who loses his temper always has an inexhaustible supply to fall back on.

LLOYD GEORGE SPEAKS.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

When peace is established there will be no place in Great Britain for the German aliens or the disloyalists of German origin who have been interned during the war. The men and women who abused British hospitality and did their little toward embroiling the warring nation will be packed off to Germany. They will be sent to the land which they sought to serve, and they will not be permitted to return. This is Lloyd George's promise to the loyal people of Great Britain.

A course of action so manifestly sane and just commends itself to thoughtful observers. Were the disloyalists permitted to remain in Great Britain they would be a constant reminder of their offenses would not be forgotten, and there would be continual agitation against them. It is even possible that their own comfort and safety will best be conserved by casting them out. The prospect of life in Germany is not alluring, but it may be less distressful than the prospect of life in a country where there is no sentiment but that of scorn and hatred.

Moreover, Lloyd George declares that Germans, for a time at least, must not be admitted to Great Britain. Men who have frankly been Britain's foes would be less disliked than those who sought by stealth and treachery to injure the country, but even these former enemies would, in Lloyd George's opinion, be sources of irritation and disturbance.

Great Britain, in short, is not going to forgive and forget. Great Britain is going to remember, because forgetfulness is impossible, and while the memory of the four years' crime lingers there can be no forgiveness. Great Britain is going to demand the punishment of the guilty. It would be in vain to say that the punishment of the guilty is the prerogative of the premier, "neither God's justice nor man's" to let off the criminals because they are highly placed or because their heads were crowned. Great Britain is not to be ruled by the whims of a man, and in this vigorous determination there is a good indication of the true British spirit. It does not persecute. It does not descend to brutality or injustice but for the present it can have no friendship with a nation which has deliberately placed itself beyond the pale of civilization.

HELGOLAND TO PASS.

(Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.)

Heligoland is the most important of the German defenses. It alone prevented naval attacks upon the Elbe and Weser river towns and the Kiel canal. It made possible the safe harboring of the German fleet throughout the war. It is indispensable to Germany as a fortification if that country ever is to have need of military defenses. Therefore announcement by Winston Churchill, minister of munitions, that Great Britain finds it unnecessary to exact this North Sea island from the beaten enemy can mean only one thing. That is, that in the settlement of the war it will be provided that Germany never again shall regain any military strength. Heligoland will be dismantled as a fortress. It will stand harmless as a monument to the blasted hopes of the Germanic race. It will be theirs but not theirs to do with as they will. And being thus deprived of the right to utilize it for offensive or defensive purposes they will be unable of rebuilding their navy, incapable of protecting the North Sea entrance to their country. The loss of Heligoland as a fortification means the loss of all power. The decision of the British naval authorities will mean the end of the German navy. It evidences a determination to go through with the program of reduction of armaments to which practically all peoples are committed. Naturally the enemy must be disarmed, and it must be made impossible for him to rearm. The German menace removed, other countries can lessen their defensive forces and protective equipment. Great Britain herself will feel less necessity for the great navy which she has maintained. Possibly her demands that her sea supremacy remain unchallenged will be modified. Certainly the elimination of Heligoland will be an accomplishment of the moment.

OHIO'S TAX SITUATION.

(Cincinnati Enquirer.)

Nothing more unfortunate than the collapse of the hope for the adoption of the constitutional amendment permitting the classification of property for taxation purposes could have happened to Ohio and its political subdivisions, especially the cities. Apparently the legal difficulties are insurmountable.

This fact excuses the criticism of the voters of the Commonwealth as a whole for committing the blunder of adopting two taxation proposals which were in direct conflict with each other.

TRAINING CORPS.

(Ohio State Journal.)

The demobilization of student army training corps is going on all over the country by orders from Washington. This action is in harmony with public opinion. The people don't want the education of these youth tampered with by the volarities of militarism. Nor do they want the expense in time and money borne by the people in these days when the great burden of the war presses upon them and will continue to press for many years to come. The idea of cultivating the military spirit in the country, when we have just emerged from a bloody war, is brought on by an autocracy which is the result of the military spirit.

Content as we are that the future league of nations will reduce the ability of war, and determined as the mass of Americans are to give support to this method of dealing with international controversies at the incipency, ordinary citizens will naturally prepare ourselves that we shall be able to contribute our full part to preservation of the peace of the world and also that we shall be equipped to protect ourselves from all aggression. But for the allies we should have been without ships, rifles, machine guns, heavy ordnance, airplanes and adequate naval craft properly to care for and equip our hurriedly-raised army.—America must not be in such a temporary helpless plight again. In view of what will probably be overproduction of heavy motor trucks, owing to the sudden cessation of hostilities, the necessity of completing contracts, economic demands, and advantage be taken of all rational means of utilizing these vehicles. As a business proposition the government, instead of storing these surplus vehicles, or abandoning them to the manufacturers, might form a plan by which they could be leased on a system which would ultimately recoup their cost. That the gross amount of farm products would be increased by more easy and less costly transportation to markets by the general use of large motor trucks, will not be seriously doubted.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

THE NEWARK ADVOCATE

Men must be taken as they are, and we neither make them or ourselves better by trying from or quenching with them.—Burke.

Domestic Warfare.
We oft have marvelled why all proof-readers seem so partial to certain words, when "marital" we write, they make it "matril."

Wanted To Know The Details.
Aunt Caline says:—Grandma Podnose had come over 'other afternoon with her nittin' an' we was a settin' before the fire an' she said: "An' agin' over the neighbors reel thorough, when in come Maggie Zeen, a doctan' reel distressed. She had a letter into her hand an' as soon as she set down she says, 'Well, she says, 'I've just heard from my cousin out west,' she says, 'an' she's lost her husband,' she says, 'He took this here coffee flew,' she says, 'an' he had it twit.' "Oh, ain't that too bad," says Grandma. "Did he die the first time he had it," she says, "for the second?" she says.

Up to Hell.
Dilly Sunday says that the ex-kaiser has sunk so low that he will have to take an aeroplane to get to Hades, but we are sure the Devil has some regard for the reputation of his place and we have an idea that he will forestall him by shutting the trap-door and putting the heaviest cobain on top of it.

Our Own Course in Anatomy.
Cerebrum and Cerebellum.
All my dear ye twain deserve! For if I lacked neither, I'd have the rest of me direct My monumental nerve? —Don Marquis in New York Evening Sun.

Os Malae! Oh, Os Malae! With choking voice I speak! Oh, pardon this emotion. Without that staunch devotion, Where, where would be my check?

should not for a moment be entertained. Let us hope all our educational institutions will be brought within the scope of legitimate purposes speedily.

Spirit of the Press
Military Training in America.
Content as we are that the future league of nations will reduce the ability of war, and determined as the mass of Americans are to give support to this method of dealing with international controversies at the incipency, ordinary citizens will naturally prepare ourselves that we shall be able to contribute our full part to preservation of the peace of the world and also that we shall be equipped to protect ourselves from all aggression. But for the allies we should have been without ships, rifles, machine guns, heavy ordnance, airplanes and adequate naval craft properly to care for and equip our hurriedly-raised army.—America must not be in such a temporary helpless plight again. We must adopt some system of universal training, resembling that of Switzerland, and we must have a staff that will always function.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Farm Clubs and Transportation.
In view of what will probably be overproduction of heavy motor trucks, owing to the sudden cessation of hostilities, the necessity of completing contracts, economic demands, and advantage be taken of all rational means of utilizing these vehicles. As a business proposition the government, instead of storing these surplus vehicles, or abandoning them to the manufacturers, might form a plan by which they could be leased on a system which would ultimately recoup their cost. That the gross amount of farm products would be increased by more easy and less costly transportation to markets by the general use of large motor trucks, will not be seriously doubted.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Belgium's Choice.
When King Albert is backed by the Belgian senate and chamber of representatives, spurned with contempt the demand of Germany that Belgium should be made an open road to France, Germany laughed at the Belgians and many laughed at the Belgians and peoples now. The name of Belgium is a badge of honor around the world. Belgium has written upon the heart of humanity a new estimate of national honor and devotion to duty. She has illustrated in her own glorious performance the great truth that he that loseth his life for righteousness' sake shall save it.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Pointed Observations
The country is overwhelmingly with the President in all the essential points of his international program. The congressional election had nothing to do with that.—Saturday Evening Post.

The Allies aren't lifting any blockades until they have got Germany nailed down tight.—Rochester Herald.

Granville Man in Air Service Sends Word From Metz Through Red Cross

(Special to the Advocate)
Granville, Dec. 9.—No definite word has been received by the parents of Lieutenant Waldo Heinrichs, U. S. airman, who was brought down behind the German lines in September, further than the receipt about a week ago of a communication from Borne, Switzerland, confirming the cable sent by the Red Cross of that place on October 15. They enclosed the soiled and worn card received by them from Germany which reads thus:
"Metz, 21 September, 1918.—Lieutenant Waldo Heinrichs was brought down in aerial combat within the German lines on September 15, wounded in six places. Kindly inform Rev. J. Heinrichs, Granville, O., U. S. A. He needs any thing you can send him. Kindly notify the 95th Aero Squadron, Air Service, A. E. F., France."
"The writing," says Mrs. Heinrichs, "is of a German character, but the above is the exact copy." The mother feels that to know that their boy was wounded in six places and being cared for in a German prison camp hospital, gives but small reason for hope.

When constipated or bilious give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look at the tongue, mother! It coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.
When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.
You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.
Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by California Fig Syrup Company. Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

NO SERVICE SUNDAY AT ST. FRANCIS DE SALES

Probably for the first time, since the erection of St. Francis de Sales church, there was no masses celebrated there on Sunday morning, owing to the illness of their pastor Rev. Father B. M. O'Boylan, and the inability to secure another priest to assume the duties. Many of the congregation attended mass at the Blessed Sacrament church. In the past few weeks in the state, there have been numerous deaths among the priests who have succumbed to influenza, contracting the disease while performing their pastoral duties. Also many have gone into the army as chaplains, and the vast amount of sickness has made the work of the remaining sacerdotalists very heavy. Several are ill, while others are needed in their home parishes.
Father O'Boylan, who has been attending a large sick list in the parish, was taken ill Saturday, and is still confined to his bed. His condition is said to be improved this morning.
Rev. Father J. P. Roach, assistant pastor at St. Thomas Catholic church at Zanesville, left Friday for Newark, to assist in that city about Rev. Father J. S. Moran, former pastor at St. Thomas is critically ill from double pneumonia at Providence, R. I.

324TH ARTILLERY IS NEARING RHINE

Newark and Licking County Boys Assigned to 32nd Division With Army of Occupation.

In a special story appearing under a Washington date line in a Columbus paper of Sunday, the 324th Heavy Field Artillery is given the highest praise for the work done by them on the battle line near the Meuse river, for nearly two months before the armistice was signed.

The story states that the organization left for overseas with the 82d division, but that the entire artillery brigade, comprising the 322nd, the 323d and 324th regiments, and known as the 153th artillery brigade was attached to the 32d division. There are many Newark and Licking county men with Battery B and D of the 324th.

It is also known that the 32d division to which they are now attached is in the front line of the army of occupation and Saturday night were stated to be within 20 miles of the Rhine.

Divorce Petition.
Cora Shaw has filed a petition in common pleas court against Clyde Shaw.

They were married September 27, 1916, and she alleges extreme cruelty in that defendant has called her vile and indecent names and has ordered her to leave home, as a result of which a separation took place September 30. Plaintiff asks that a divorce be granted her.

Answer and Cross-Petition.
An answer and cross-petition has been filed by the defendant in the case of Laura Roney vs. Clifford M. Roney. He admits the marriage to plaintiff June 28, 1905, and that they are the parents of one child, aged 11, and denies all other allegations in plaintiff's petition. For his cross-answer he alleges that the plaintiff has been guilty of extreme cruelty and that for several years past she has been cross and angry at the defendant making him miserable and unhappy, and that she has threatened him and he fears she will do him injury. He asks that he be granted a divorce and all other relief to which he may be entitled.

WOMEN'S COLLEGE IS QUARANTINED

Flu Situation Grows Serious, Health Officer Declares and Orders New Ban.

(Special to the Advocate.)
Granville, Dec. 9.—For the first time the flu situation in Granville assumes serious aspects, the fresh outbreak being traceable to the general traveling during the Thanksgiving recess. Over a dozen girls in Shepardson college are now isolated, and if the college there are not checked at once, another nurse will be necessary. Health Officer Lovelace will quarantine the women's college, and already has placed a ban on admitting young people into any public assembly. There were no Sunday schools nor young people's meetings yesterday, and school children were excluded from the picture show Saturday night. The managers of the Opera House have cancelled the order for tonight's picture, and unless conditions speedily improve, will close the house, although the ban is not yet placed on the meetings of older people, who seem to be more able to resist the disease.

At a meeting of the Board of Education Saturday night, it was decided to close the schools until after the holidays. Any change in the situation will be made known to the pupils through Superintendent Conklin or through the teachers. Dr. Lovelace is a busy man and should not be called to the phone except on important matters.

The Women's Missionary Organization held its regular meeting Friday afternoon in the social rooms of the Baptist church. The program on the general topic, "Women's Work Together," was ably presented by Mrs. W. P. Ullman before a large company of women who were interested in the women of Persia, as presented by Mrs. Ullman as leader; of India by Mrs. Kellogg, of China by Mrs. C. Chamberlain, of Japan by Mrs. C. E. Stanton. Devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. B. F. Griffith, and Current Events in the missionary world were presented by Mrs. T. F. Chambers.

The Women's Music club is again forced to postpone the regular meeting of Wednesday afternoon on account of the illness or indisposition of many of its members.

There will be no moving picture show tonight at the managers, Austin and Case, cancelled the order for Vivian Martin in "Unclaimed Goods," when a partial ban was played on the house excluding children and young people.

The Y. M. C. A. play which was booked for December 7, has been postponed on account of the fresh outbreak of influenza in the college. No details have as yet been received concerning the death of Paul C. Ladd, 20, which occurred while in active service in France.
Over 800 stars decorate the Denison service flag, eight of them gold. Prof. and Mrs. Theodore Johnson, who left for Chicago Thursday evening, returned home Sunday night. East medical advice imposes another month of quiet for the injured knee, following the removal of the cast by Dr. A. D. Bevan at the Presbyterian hospital.
The R. M. B. White Lumber Co.'s telephone number at Granville has been changed to No. 8166. Telephone your orders to Granville or Newark and they will receive prompt attention. 12-6-18

NEWARK ATTORNEY IN BIG LAW SUIT

Attorney James R. Fitzgibbon has been retained by the plaintiff, The Buckeye Coal and Railroad company, in a suit involving $20,000,000 which has been filed in the court of Perry county against the Central Union Trust company of New York and the Hocking Valley Railroad company to quiet a title in the cancellation of a mortgage of $20,000,000 of coal lands in Perry, Adams, Hocking and Athens counties and properties in West Virginia and the Sunday Creek Coal company. J. S. Jones of Granville is the principal stockholder of the above companies. Other attorneys for the plaintiff are James H. Cline of Zanesville, Arnold and Game of Columbus and William Burry of Chicago.

CHILD DIES IN FIRE WHICH DESTROYS HOME

Zanesville, Dec. 9.—Burned to a crisp, the body of George Reusser, one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reusser, was recovered from the embers of the Reusser home on the river road near the Jonathan creek bridge, at noon Saturday, some three hours after the fire broke out. Sunday morning a grate fire had destroyed the home and its contents, including $1400 in money and Liberty bonds.

Gladys Reusser, aged four, was rescued with difficulty by Clyde Henry and Frank Morgan, who saw her flames. As they were going hunting, and forced their way into the house. The little girl told them no one else was in the house and they turned their attention to removing furniture. Too late the frantic mother returned from a neighbor's and told them that her baby was in the mass of flames. The men made a desperate endeavor to rescue the child but were driven back.

MANUFACTURER KILLED BY SPEEDING AUTO

Zanesville, Dec. 9.—William H. Koch, aged 51, superintendent of the Zanesville Art Pottery, died at Bethesda hospital at 2:20 o'clock Sunday morning from injuries suffered at midnight Saturday when he was run down by an automobile while standing on the sidewalk just opposite the Greenwood cemetery. The driver of the car did not stop and his identity is unknown.

Koch had alighted from the street car and stepped to the sidewalk when an automobile approached at a high rate of speed and in passing the street car the machine left the street, climbed the curb and struck Koch. The machine increased its speed and was out of sight before it could be identified.

New Concord and Cambridge officials were notified to be on the lookout for the car and a careful inquiry is being conducted.

SEVEN LICKING BOYS CASUALTIES

Two Die of Disease, One is Missing and Four are Reported Wounded.

Mrs. Elizabeth Allen of West Main street received official notification that her son, Earl Allen had been missing in action since October 11.

Private Allen was employed as a baker here until three years ago, and enlisted from Ft. Sill, Okla., with an engineering corps.

Official notification that Private John T. Cammerdinger, of 105 Summit street had been seriously wounded was received by his father Charles Cammerdinger on Saturday. The family had been notified that Private Cammerdinger was missing in action.

He saw service with Company K, 18th Infantry.

Others appearing in today's and Saturday casualty list are Private Clark May of 57 South Fifth street, who died of disease, Private Guy E. Wilson 1188 South Second street, who was severely wounded; Private Ellis L. Lamp of R. D. 2, Newark, died of disease; Private Ray Watts, of 89 Oakwood avenue was wounded severely in action.

Frank McCruder of Ulen was wounded in action in France on November 9, according to a letter received from him. He is the son of William McCruder of Ulen and a brother of L. R. McCruder of the Marietta Paint company of this city. He took part in three big drives, and shrapnel caught him through the calf of his leg, tore the collar on his coat. The only wound inflicted, however, was in the leg and he stated he was recovering rapidly.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS TELL END WAS EXPECTED

Most of the letters written home during the last two weeks of October by the boys abroad predicted an early end to the war. "By when we have lost the war, the war will last much longer. I guess the Germans are getting a little too much of fighting," wrote Corp. David Denelsbeck on Oct. 17th to his father, Frank Denelsbeck, North Fourth street.

"I am feeling great, like the army better than I did as I am in a different division and like the men a whole lot better. They are men that have been in the service a long time and they are interesting to talk to. I have not been able to write for some time as I just came from the trenches, this morning and am writing you at the first chance, but I only have three sheets of paper and am going to try and write 3 letters so each will be pretty short. By what we hear I don't think the war will last much longer. I guess the Germans are getting a little too much of fighting. The French all seem to think that it is about over now. While I don't mind this life so very much still I will be glad to get back to the U. S. once more again."

NURSES WORK HARD BUT, IT'S WORTH WHILE

Even though the nurses life abroad is a busy and hard one they are happy in the thought that they are doing their part for the world. writes Miss Mary Gano a Red Cross nurse, graduated from Grant hospital and whose home is in Granville. The letter written Oct. 20 to Mrs. J. R. Black follows: "I am writing you my life. I am very happy in the work here. Feel that I'm really doing something worth while for once. The work is not so hard except just by spells, but the pity of it all is enough to break one's heart. For the past few months we have turned our patients right from the field, all mud and blood, fix them up the best we can, and then send them to a base farther back and do not care much for that kind of work, as we do not keep the patients long enough to become acquainted with them. We have been quite excited the past few days by Austria's surrender, but do not let our hopes get raised too high, as one can never tell just what the Huns mean by their peace talk. Just last night they bombed a town only fifteen miles from here. We could see the search lights playing on the planes, and see the flashes from the anti-aircraft guns. Have never been able to understand how hospital centers seem to be their favorite targets. Please convey my heartfelt thanks to the ladies for the knitted comfort. It will certainly be much appreciated this winter, as our heating facilities are decidedly below par."

MAJOR COLE NOT HEARD FROM

Zanesville, Dec. 9.—Great concern is being felt here over the safety of Major Ralph D. Cole, who has not been heard from since Oct. 28.

Major Cole is well known in Newark, having delivered a memorial address to the Newark Elks three years ago and a Flag Day address two years ago last June.

SPANISH INFLUENZA

(By Dr. M. Cook.)
The cool fighter always wins and so there is no need to become panic-stricken. Avoid fear and crowds. Exercise in the fresh air and moderate diet. Have a Clean Mouth, a Clean Skin and Clean Bowels. To carry off the poisons that accumulate within the body and to ward off an attack of the influenza bacillus, take a good liver regulator to move the bowels. Such a one is made of the leaves of the Aloe, root of Jalap, and is to be had at any drug store, and called "Pleasant Purgative Pellets."

If a bad cold develops, go to bed, wrap up well, drink freely of hot lemonade and take a hot water foot bath. Have a hot room warm but well ventilated. Obtain at the nearest drug store "Anuric Tablets" to flush the kidneys and control the pains and aches. Take an "Anuric" tablet every two hours, together with copious drinks of water. If you have influenza, the food should be simple, such as broths, milk, buttermilk and ice cream; but it is important that food be given regularly in order to keep up patient's strength and vitality. After the acute attack has passed, which is generally about two to six days, the system should be built up by the use of a good tonic, such as "Ironite" tablets, to be obtained at some drug stores, or that well known blood-maker and herbal tonic, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," to be obtained at any drug store, as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

RETURNED SOLDIER IS HONORED BY FRIENDS

A reception was given Corporal W. B. Matthews at his home in McKean township on the evening of December 4th, when about 45 of the friends and neighbors met to welcome him home from the battle line in France.

Corporal Matthews enlisted as a private in Co. B of the Fourth Ohio Infantry, now the 16th Infantry of the famous rainbow division and left Newark July 15, 1917 with his company for camp at the Fairgrounds, Columbus. From there they were sent to Camp Perry on Lake Erie, then to Camp Mills, Long Island, from where they embarked at Hoboken, October 18th, 1917 and arrived in France about the first of November. He was with the Rainbow division in all their marches, trench, camp life and fighting until July 25th, 1918 at the battle of Chateau Thierry where he was wounded with a shrapnel shell. He was struck in the right hand and arm and the arm was broken in two places between the elbow and wrist. The bones in the arm were also broken and the flesh torn off the arm between the elbow and wrist on the lower part of the arm. He was taken to a base hospital in France and later brought to Newport News and then to Lakewood hospital, Norfolk, Va. where he remained for several months until he was discharged on December 4th, 1918. This is his first trip home since enlisting.

The wound is healed but he has not fully recovered the use of his arm. Corporal Matthews gave a very interesting account of army life and conditions in France. He was not wounded until the Germans had been turned back. The shell that wounded Corporal Matthews killed 22 and wounded 50 others in Co. B.

Corporal Matthews fought in the battle of Champagne just before the battle when he was wounded. The Germans were defeated but not until the dead were piled 5 feet high in some places. He told of the sacrifice men whom the Germans chained to their guns to hold the Americans back until the rest of the German army could be withdrawn.

Corporal Matthews will return to New Jersey for further treatment. A supper was served the following: Corporal W. B. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bell and son, Don, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Myers and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Warren, Mr. and Mrs. James Elder and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Blanchard, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Powers, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Shockey, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Forsythe and daughter Martha, Mrs. W. Moorhead, Mrs. J. S. Rhoades, Mr. J. R. Cunningham, Mr. J. S. Bishop, Miss Emma McCarthy, Mr. G. Graham Prior, Mr. Allen Warner, Mr. Genaro Spier, Mr. Arthur Stevens, Mr. Edward Blanchard, Mr. Guy Parr, Mr. Richard Parr.

TWO AFFIDAVITS ARE FILED AGAINST PICKETT

William Pickett, arrested by local officers on the charge of victimizing several merchants by the means of forged checks, had his hearing before Mayor Atherton Friday noon and was bound over to common pleas court in the sum of $100 each on two affidavits preferred by J. W. Rutledge and Dr. J. N. Stone. The forged checks were on a Lilly Chapel bank and bore the signature of L. M. Johnson, by whom Pickett was employed at one time. Saturday, Louis Benz, of the Pastime Bowling Alleys, turned in another $10 check, one of his assistants having loaned Pickett $2 on the check. The defendant was placed in jail to await action of the grand jury.

MT. VERNON MAY NOT OPEN SCHOOLS

Mt. Vernon, Dec. 9.—A rumor is current that the public schools here will not be reopened until January 1. They have been closed several weeks because of influenza. Permission to hold sessions of high school for recitations only was not taken advantage of by the school board. The board decided to "play safe" and not resume sessions at present.

DON'T LOSE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO BUY YOUR WINTER COAT OR SUIT THIS WEEK--

YOU will save money—you can buy a better quality garment and have a larger variety to select from, at the same price as you will pay later. There will be no change in the spring prices. In fact many manufacturers think spring lines will possibly be a trifle higher than fall lines, on account of the overhead being higher. When you take into consideration that materials for the spring lines are all bought—the samples all made up on the basis of the present cost prices, you will readily see how improbable it is that there will be any change in prices for spring, so ACT QUICKLY WHILE THE STOCK IS FULL AND COMPLETE AND PRICES ARE AT THE BOTTOM and secure one of our many fine coats and suits that are now on sale.
